

Pennsylvania To Key Resort Advertising To Family Level

New Approach Adopted By Travel Group

By Leonard Randolph

POCONO MANOR — Pennsylvania will concentrate its resort advertising on "travel for the whole family" during the coming year.

This was the main decision reached yesterday at a meeting of the Travel Industry Advisory Council.

With State Secretary of Commerce William R. Davlin in charge of the meeting, council members agreed that "the time has come to start encouraging family travel, family vacation, and with these, specialized family rates for transportation and other parts of vacation costs."

More Tourist Business — Council members evolved their new philosophy to encourage more vacation-tourist business for the Commonwealth after hearing a full discussion of this year's efforts. It came from Harold A. Swenson, director of the Vacation and Travel Development Bureau of the Department of Commerce.

The basic part of the new approach to advertising will be an effort to encourage railroads, bus lines, airlines, hotels, motels and large resorts to establish "special family rates" for vacationers.

What brought about this subtle change in advertising planning?

Swenson said that it was a gradual recognition on the part of travel industry spokesmen that a "new crop of children who are able to travel with their families has come of age."

This reasoning shows that children who were born in the immediate post World War Two period have now arrived at an age to take vacations with the family. Then too, Swenson said, more and more parents are swinging around to the "Togetherness" philosophy: Let the family have fun "all together."

For that reason, he said, a logical theme for Pennsylvania publicity this coming travel year may be "Family Travel is Fun in Pennsylvania."

Toward All Members — During the past 12 months, Swenson said, intensive research by the department has shown that advertising must be slanted toward "all members of the family—not just the father or the mother."

For this reason, Council members pointed out, transportation lines and resort industry outlets will need to increase and improve their publicity on recreational facilities for the younger set.

Included in promotion for the State's resort industry will also be specialized references to the parents and teen-aged groups. In short, Swenson said, "to bring in new business we need to keep the customers we have and encourage them to keep coming back—with their children."

Attending yesterday's full-day session were 11 members of the 20-member Council, in addition to Davlin, Swenson and John Trauch, all of the Department of Commerce.

Representatives

Other members: Charles Fife, West Penn Power; J. Benton Jones, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Harry J. Busch, president of the Pennsylvania Hotel Assn.; John M. Crandall, Pocono Manor Inn, host and representative of the resort industry; Charles A. B. Heinze, vice president of the Pennsylvania Restaurant Assn.; Everett Allen, executive director, Pennsylvania Hotel Assn.; Clifford Forster, vice president, Southern Pennsylvania Bus Co.; William Meyers, Allegheny Airlines; Lloyd Whitebrook, the State's advertising agent; James Hafer, executive director, Gettysburg Travel Council and R. LeRoy Dengler, past member of the State advisory council.

Members had dinner last night at the Manor. They will leave this morning following a brief guided tour of the Pocono Mountains area.

Tot Unhurt In Runaway Car

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Sept. 4 (P) — A runaway auto careened down a steep hill with a two-year-old girl trapped inside today.

Its flight was halted when it smashed into a truck. The child, Jean Ann Hagan, was unhurt except for a scratch on her chin.

Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Hagan, had parked the car on the grade while she stopped at a laundrette.

The car began rolling down the hill within sight of Mrs. Hagan, an expectant mother.

Shouting "my baby, my baby," she watched in horror as the car picked up momentum on the three-block, 45-degree grade.

The car crashed into the truck with a roar, knocking Jean Ann from the seat onto the floor.

County Board's Charges Disputed By Jointure

BANGOR — The three-district Bangor Area Jointure voted heatedly last night to "give an immediate reply" to Northampton County School Board allegations that the seven-district State Belt Jointure failed to act properly to finalize its agreement.

The area joint board appointed a committee headed by Quintus LeBar, Bangor, to draft a reply to the county board. Others named to the committee: Donald Creighton, Lower Mount Bethel; John Finelli, Roseto; Attorney Edmund Turzoi; superintendent D. B. Keat; Marvin DePamphilis, seven-district board president.

The board also authorized the committee to make a trip to Harrisburg to present "in person" a copy of the reply to the county group to Dr. Charles Boehm, superintendent of public instruction in the State.

Failure Alleged — The county board originally charged, in a news release, that the State Belt seven-district group had not filled out the proper forms and had failed to act on its joint agreement.

Other developments at an area jointure meeting last night:

Miss Florence Giacquinto, president of the Bangor branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, presented a draft copy of the professional employees handbook developed by the branch.

The board increased the salary of Thomas Kirkland, a high school janitor to $2,800 yearly. Members authorized the opening of the high school cafeteria today instead of next Monday as originally announced.

Quintus LeBar reported that band uniforms will not arrive until October. The board elected John Orm, an uncertificated professional artist, to teach art on a per day basis at a salary of $20 per diem. Mark Bennett was retained as a high school mathematics instructor despite the fact that he has passed the 65-year retirement age.

C. D. Demonstration — Civil Defense was given permission to use the high school cafeteria for a mass casualty demonstration on Sept. 15.

Football season tickets will go on sale Sept. 13 at a cost of $5.75 including the Pen Argyl game.

The board made arrangements to meet with teachers on the question of graduate study past the Master's degree. The maximum teachers salary in high school was set at $5,500 yearly to be reached by three consecutive $500 increments on an annual basis. The elementary supervisor's salary was set at $7,200 to be attained by three $400 annual increments.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 4 (P) — U.N. action to give Dag Hammarskjold another five-year term as secretary general has been delayed for at least two weeks at the request of Soviet Russia.

Eight Miners Killed

DECAZEVILLE, France, Sept. 4 (P) — Eight miners were trapped and killed in a fire-damp explosion tonight in a coal mine at Combes, in south-central France.

Council Votes Inoculations For Workers

STREET and Sewer Dept. employees will receive inoculations against Asiatic flu and polio as the result of action taken by Stroudsburg Council last night.

Whether other employees of the borough will also receive the inoculations will depend on an investigation to be conducted by Borough Manager Harold E. Snyder to determine the feasibility of the program and its cost.

East Stroudsburg Borough Council voted Tuesday night to provide Asiatic flu vaccine for all active firemen and borough employees at the borough's expense.

Envoy Sees Syrian Threat To Security

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (P) — Loy W. Henderson returned from the Middle East today and reported pro-Soviet moves by Syria might endanger the security of the entire free world.

Henderson, deputy undersecretary of state, summed up: "The situation in Syria is serious. In fact, I would say extremely serious."

Henderson made these comments at National Airport after returning from an emergency two-week round of talks with Syria's neighbors. During his stay, he discussed the Syrian outlook with top representatives of Turkey, Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon as well as American envoys in the region.

New Red Note

Henderson's return coincided with a new Russian note renewing the Kremlin's bid for a greater voice in settling Middle Eastern problems. The State Department said it appeared to be a warmed-over reshuffle of previous demands but promised serious consideration if it proved, on close examination, to contain any constructive Soviet proposals.

Right-To-Know Laws Now In Effect In Pennsylvania

A NEW state law which went into effect this week guarantees citizens the right to attend meetings and inspect records of certain agencies.

The bipartisan sponsored "public meeting" and "public records" laws enacted at the last session of the General Assembly and signed by Gov. George M. Leader regulates regular and special meetings of public agencies.

Agencies Affected — Affected by these "right to know" laws are county commissioners, city and borough councils, township commissioners and supervisors, school boards and state or municipal authorities.

Public notice must be given of the schedule of regular meetings once a year, including the date, time and meeting place. Special meetings have to be announced in a prominent display

62 Indicted In World Dope Ring

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (P) — A multimillion dollar dope ring of international scope was reported smashed today with the unsealing of a federal indictment naming 62 persons.

U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said the indictment followed "the largest seizures of heroin and prepared opium ever made in the continental United States." The indictment was returned Aug. 27 but was kept sealed until today to permit arrests.

Williams said the ring was headed by a Russian-born ex-convict and had smuggled up to 20 million dollars worth of narcotics annually into this country for the past seven years.

46 Defendants

The indictment named 46 defendants and 16 coconspirators. So far, 11 have been arrested here and one each in Atlantic City, Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Harry Stromberg, 54, who came to this country from Russia in 1906, masterminded the ring for the past 25 years, Williams said. His police record, including burglary and prohibition convictions, dates back to 1915. He lives in Manhattan and is still at large.

The indictment, unsealed before U.S. Dist. Judge Edward Weinfeld, said the ring smuggled about 30 pounds of heroin each month from France and other countries — plus large amounts of cocaine and opium.

Three former customs inspectors were included in the indictment.

Fantastic Prices

The narcotics were said to have been smuggled through New York, diluted, distributed and sold at fantastic prices throughout the United States.

Williams said the indictment exposes the ring "from the purchasing group in France to financial backers in the United States."

The investigation leading to the indictment involved U.S. agents and police in France, Britain, Italy, Belgium, Germany, Turkey, Cuba, Mexico, Venezuela and Canada.

Three of the defendants are serving prison terms now on other charges.

Three other defendants were arraigned immediately before Judge Weinfeld and pleaded innocent. They were Benjamin Dunis, 48, Brooklyn; Nicholas Lessa, 36, Manhattan and George Baker, 61, Brooklyn. Dunis and Lessa were held on $5,000 bail each and Baker was held on $10,000 bail.

The rest of the defendants are scattered over the United States and other countries.

Plane Crash Injures Eight

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 4 (P) — An Air Force Globemaster with nine persons aboard crashed and burned at Broome County Airport tonight.

State police said no one was killed.

Troopers said eight were taken to Wilson Memorial Hospital in Johnson City.

The plane struck about 10:45 p. m. about in the middle of the field, one report said.

The Broome County fire coordinator sent five pieces of apparatus to the field, which is about eight miles north of Binghamton.

He Had Reason To Be Afraid

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 4 (P) — The boy gazed uneasily at the cordon of National Guardsmen surrounding Central High School during the opening of classes yesterday.

"Are you afraid to go to school?" his father asked.

"Yes," the boy said.

"What are you afraid of?"

"Latin."

Russian Plane In U.S. First Time In 20 Years

MCGUIRE AIR BASE, N. J., Sept. 4 (P) — A sleek Russian jet airliner landed here tonight to complete a historic flight from Moscow.

It was the first Russian plane to land on American soil in 20 years.

Less Than 22 Hours

The powerful TU104 passenger craft made the 5,570-mile trip, including several stopovers for refueling, in 21 hours and 54 minutes. It set down on the rain-slick runway here at 10:43 p. m. EDT.

The TU104 is the pride of the Russian civil air fleet. Aeroflot, which has the only jet airliners in regular service in the world. This was the first Russian civil flight ever to come to this country.

The plane took off at 12:49 a. m. EDT today from Moscow and refueled in England and Iceland before heading for Goose Bay, Labrador. It landed at Goose Bay at 5:29 p. m. EDT and took off for McGuire at 7:02 p. m. EDT.

Three Hungarian pickets marched outside the gate of the air base, to protest the crushing of the Hungarian revolution by the Russians last fall.

The two-engine TU104 is the first Soviet civilian plane to visit the United States. Two military planes made long-distance record transpolar flights in 1937 to the U. S. West Coast.

Carried "Experts" — The Russian jet carries a group of Soviet technical experts, translators and minor officials of the Soviet delegation to the coming United Nations General Assembly.

From Iceland to Goose Bay two Canadian air force navigators were aboard to assist.

Three Americans assigned by the U.S. Air Force were sent to board the Soviet plane in Newfoundland and help bring it here.

Eisenhowers At Newport For Vacation

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 4 (P) — President Eisenhower, grinning from ear to ear, started a seaside vacation with his convalescing wife today and declared happily: "We look forward to the time of our lives."

The President got a rousing welcome at a downtown reception and from crowds which called greetings as he toured this historic community's narrow streets in an open car.

For Eisenhower it's to be a vacation mixed with work, and the work wasn't long in catching up with him today.

Shortly after arrival the President talked by telephone with Atty. Gen. Brownell in Washington, regarding school integration troubles in Little Rock, Ark.

An Eisenhower aide said Brownell informed the President that the Arkansas National Guard "apparently under orders by the governor—Orval Faubus — stopped seven to nine Negro children from going to school today."

The aide said he could not say at this time what steps, if any, the federal government might take in the situation. He did say Brownell was "under orders"—apparently the President's—to stay in close touch with the situation.

He was authorized to contact the secretary of the Merchants Assn. to ask voluntary cooperation in placing such refuse either in borough trash disposal containers or in store waste baskets.

By 10 a. m., you'd never know they had ever been cleaned," Snyder told councilmen.

Harold Snyder, Stroudsburg borough manager, last night rapped downtown merchants who sweep refuse from their stores and sidewalks into the streets after they have been cleaned by the borough's sweeper.

He also accused the Western Powers of blocking agreement on his proposal for an immediate end to test-firing of nuclear weapons.

Zorin complained that the West's conditional plan for a two-year halt to H-bomb tests is "tied up in a maze of conditions which rob it of its essential value."

Harold E. Stassen, the U.S. delegate, denied that any conditions in the Western plan are unreasonable and asked Zorin to specify any conditions he believed unworkable.

Zorin did not reply.

Faubus Bares Federal Plot To Seize Him

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 4 (P) — Gov. Orval Faubus tonight sent a telegram to President Eisenhower saying "I am reliably informed that federal authorities in Little Rock have this day been discussing plans to take into custody by force the head of a sovereign state."

The governor read the contents of his telegram in a news conference called suddenly at the state Capitol.

National Guardsmen were placed around the governor's mansion today but until the press conference no reason could be learned for the action.

Faubus, whose defiance of a federal court order to integrate Little Rock Central High School has placed him in the national spotlight, continued in his telegram:

"This would be in complete disregard of the constitutional guarantee of the separation and independence of the three branches of government and the rights and powers of a state."

Then the governor, whose troops are surrounding Central High School and Hall High, the city's other high school, read in an emphatic voice:

"I can no more surrender these rights than you could surrender the rights of the duly elected chief executive of our nation."

Faubus said in the message to Eisenhower that he had "strong reasons to believe that the telephone lines to the Arkansas executive mansion have been tapped — I suspect the federal agents."

The governor told Eisenhower in his telegram that the situation in Little Rock grows "more explosive by the hour."

He said that if the "impending interference of federal agents" continues or if his executive authority as governor to maintain the peace "is breached," that he could "no longer be responsible for the results."

By The Associated Press

THE cold steel of Arkansas troops and the jeers of restless townspeople turned back nine Negroes who attempted, under federal court order, to attend the all-white Central High School at Little Rock Wednesday.

Some 250 determined white National Guardsmen, under orders from Gov. Orval Faubus, shifted rifles and carbines to the ready and blocked every effort by the Negroes to approach the 2,000-pupil school through a jostling, name-calling mob of whites.

"Keeping Order"

Faubus declared the guardsmen were used to "maintain peace and order" after U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald Davies ordered the Little Rock School Board to "proceed forthwith with integration" in spite of the shoulder-to-shoulder troops which surrounded the building.

Davies ordered a U.S. attorney to "begin at once a thorough and complete investigation to determine responsibility for interference with the integration order."

Argument Ends In Shootings

DETROIT, Sept. 4 (P) — A book publisher, acquitted last November in the shooting of his former wife, was accused of wounding her after an argument in her office today. Police said he then shot himself in the head.

Sym J. Bloch, head of a Detroit commercial publishing firm that bears his name, was listed in critical condition at Mount Carmel Hospital. Homicide officers booked him on an open charge.

Allocate Vaccine By Population

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (P) — The Public Health Service announced tonight that supplies of the new vaccine against Asian flu will be allocated to the states in proportion to their population.

It said the six manufacturers of the vaccine had agreed to this distribution system. It will go into effect immediately.

TO SLEEP, PERCHANCE TO DREAM—of good old days when nobody made you sit still for minutes on end. When you could run and skip on the sidewalk all day long. When you didn't have a card marked "Cynthia" on your desk and that meant you sat right there, not somewhere else, but right in that particular corner at that particular chair. And you weren't — But then, maybe it wasn't so bad after all. She's gonna tell us a story, now. Hey, Cynthia! In a first grade classroom yesterday young Cynthia Kilgo and Kay Miller helped us demonstrate two of the most common reactions to that "first day of school". Cynthia just couldn't listen any longer. 1,500 View New Edsel At Haynes' Showroom

APPROXIMATELY 1,500 persons have viewed the new Ford Edsel since it was put on display here Tuesday night, Jack F. Haynes, local distributor, reported yesterday.

He also announced local prices on the new car, ranging from $2,703 for the Ranger two-door sedan to $4,221 for the Citation convertible.

Optional items are extra. Their prices include: power brakes, $48; power steering, $108; overdrive, $48; power seat, $82; power windows, $130; radio, $109 or $148, and heater-defroster, $98.

The Citation and the Corsair have automatic transmission with pushbutton controls set in the steering wheel as standard equipment. It is optional on other models at $220.

On the Ranger and its companion, the Pacer, which has more expensive trim and fittings, manual transmission is standard.

The smaller cars have 303 horsepower engines, are 213 inches long and have a 118-inch wheelbase.

The bigger models have 345 horsepower, are 219 inches long and have a 124-inch wheelbase.

All are 79.8 inches wide. The four series will have 18 models including five station wagons. The station wagons will be 205.4 inches long with a 116-inch wheelbase.

In announcing the suggested list prices at Detroit, which do not include Federal excise taxes, freight and dealer conditioning charges, Richard E. Krafczyk, vice president of the company in charge of the Edsel Division, said:

"Despite sizeable rising costs due to increases in steel and other material prices and increases in labor rates resulting from cost-of-living adjustments, we are introducing a brand new concept in automobiles at prices that are expected to be fully competitive with 1958 models of other makes in the medium-priced field."

Because the Edsel is new, price comparison with other year models is not possible, but the Ford Motor Co. recently acknowledged that its 1958 lines would generally cost more than current models.

Prices as quoted for the various models by Haynes are:

Model	Price
Two-door sedan, Ranger Pacer	$2,703
Four-door sedan, Ranger Pacer	$2,853
Four-door hardtop, Ranger Pacer	$3,003

Bangor Sets Enrollment At 1373 Pupils

BANGOR — Preparations for opening day for some 1373 pupils in the Bangor Area Joint School System were completed at meetings of the elementary and high school faculties yesterday morning and afternoon. Need For Area Planning Census Bureau experts predict that Pennsylvania will have a population of 12,500,000, a gain of 2,000,000 over the 1950 census, by 1970.

Great as this increase may seem, surveys conducted since 1950 show Pennsylvania to be growing less rapidly than many of the Pacific Coast and southwestern states.

This circumstance bothers our Department of Commerce, as it should, for it suggests we may also be falling behind these other states with respect to our industrial expansion and earning power.

But our picture is not entirely bleak. With regard to factory employment, we are outpacing New York, New Jersey and Ohio. We are not doing so well as California or other faster-growing states, however.

The State Department of Commerce says Pennsylvania had an increase in average factory employment of 22,300 workmen in 1956 compared with 1955. New Jersey reported 17,300; New York 16,200, and Ohio, 14,100.

The problem of employment in Pennsylvania does not stem entirely from the trend of population westward. Our economic climate has something to do with it. And taxation is an important factor in determining the economic climate. Fair and reasonable taxation will encourage development of industries.

Given every legitimate incentive to expand production and employment, industry will play a major role in attracting more people to our Commonwealth.

Recent events lend substance to the belief that Monroe County will share in this industrial expansion. With it will come new problems concerned with schools, highways, water and sewage and other municipal matters.

As the whole picture begins to come into closer perspective, we find increasing support for our contention that very definite steps should be taken—without further delay—on regional planning and zoning.

County, borough and township officials should get together with the Planning Commission and draft an immediate program so that development of each and every section of the county can proceed on an orderly basis. Otherwise, it's possible that industrial expansion will bring chaos rather than benefit to our communities.

Formula To Eliminate Obscenity

Probably no man in America has a better grasp of the nation's crime problem than J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He recently spoke strongly against filthy literature and is now calling for local, state and federal laws to ban "certain sordid literature, pornography, and other forms of obscenity."

The FBI director says respectable American teenagers are anxious to escape the trash contained in many cheap publications but they are continually threatened by "business interests" intent on making a profit out of filth.

Mr. Hoover isn't content to condemn. He proposes a constructive course. He calls on "parents, school authorities and law-abiding citizens" to share the "duty of reporting sources of obscene material to the proper officials."

He says "public opinion and coordinated action, sparked by a Christian conscience, can sound the death knell for the obscene material peddler."

He offers a formula worthy of adoption.

The Pennsylvania Story

Mahany Explodes Myths

By Senator Roland B. Mahany
Senate Majority Leader

Harrisburg—I am most appreciative of the opportunity to write this column as the guest of Mason Denison whom I have come to know as one of the finest newspapermen in Harrisburg.

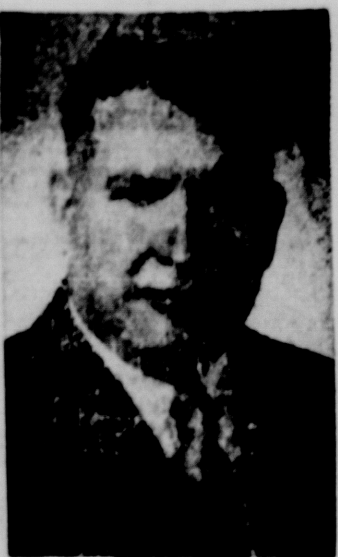

It gives me a chance to explode a few myths circulated by our glib-tongued Governor who is now and has been running for the U. S. Senate at your expense, though he stops at nothing to make you and I believe otherwise.

As you know, this year's Republican Legislature balanced the budget by cutting out non-essential spending demanded by Governor Leader and by refusing his repeated requests for higher taxes. We were able, after months of the greatest pressures legislators have ever undergone in Pennsylvania, to hold the line.

But it wasn't easy. I would like to call your attention here just one classic example of what the Leader Administration tried to pull on the Legislature and the taxpayers its members represent—a hidden item in the Department of Public Instruction's budget.

This trickery involved an ambitious program to saturate Pennsylvania television stations with movies of Governor Leader.

The films in which Leader was scheduled to appear would have cost you and I as taxpayers exactly $170,000. Just recently the Department of Public Instruction called off this publicity fraud because as one newspaper headlined it: "Lack of Dollars KO's Governor Leader's Career in Movies."

The Republican Legislature stopped this and many other expensive frills hidden in the budget. But the cagy Governor will still glorify and promote himself politically through 20-second movies of himself, prepared by the State Highway Department from its highway safety money. He has had these movies made of himself despite the fact that the highway department already has 300 genuine, unpolitical safety films on hand for distribution.

The Leader Administration, which had promised an economical government in Harrisburg, is now cutting the budget to stop his demands for new taxes, he blandly told the people we were endangering Commonwealth services—when exactly the opposite was true. No doubt many people unaware of the real facts believed him.

But the truth is that the Leader Administration has been given more money to spend for mental health and welfare, education, agriculture and other departments than any of his Republican predecessors.

This is the truth as documented—not the twisted versions the Leader Administration would fool you into believing.

Stepping Stones

George Sokolsky Says...

Difficulty With Congress

President Eisenhower is having a very difficult time in his second term as political leader, which is very different from his conception of the role of President.

His difficulty arises from several causes: 1. He does not seem to realize that ours is a Congressional system of government and that the President is not a Prime Minister; 2. He has undoubtedly been badly served by his staff and advisers, who failed to keep him informed as to the probabilities of Congressional action and as to the shifts in public opinion to which Congress responds rapidly.

Probably his greatest disappointment arises from the fact that it is impossible to form a coalition government in this country, and that while the Democrats have been more gentle with him than the Republicans were with Harry Truman, nevertheless, they are Democrats and are looking after themselves.

He also must recognize that the majority of his own party does not accept the modern Johnny-come-latties.

The Civil Rights Bill is a case in point. The bill, as passed, satisfies nobody. For some reason, not readily understood, President Eisenhower's advisers believed that he could get from Congress a bill which would totally change the political complexion of the South. Such a bill could not pass.

Instead there is a watermarked measure, difficult to enforce, which gives no one a satisfaction. The best that can be said about it is that it is better than nothing at all so far as those who wanted such a bill are concerned.

The bill to "Save the FBI

Files" while it does not affect the President, is nevertheless a reflection on President Eisenhower's appointments to the United States

Supreme Court. The final bill completely overturned the Justice Brennan, an Eisenhower appointee, and it was passed in the Senate by a vote of 74-2 and in the House by a vote of 315-0. Such a reversal of a Supreme Court decision by the Congress has never, been witnessed.

In this matter, it is to be noted that the President took no position and constitutionally he had none to take. Nevertheless, the court, as now constituted has been "liberalized" by Eisenhower appointees and has unquestionably outraged public opinion on the overturn of the Jencks Decision would not have been of such dimensions. Congress must reflect public opinion or many members will be defeated in the next election.

Paralleling this vote is the election of Joe McCarthy's successor in Wisconsin. President Eisenhower and the Republican organization had endorsed Walter Kohler, three-times elected Governor of Wisconsin, son of a Governor and a very personable citizen. He ran as an Eisenhower Republican with the President's endorsement and support. He was roundly defeated by a Democrat in a normally Republican state, Senator Proxmire.

The answer, of course, is that the ghost of Joe McCarthy continued to walk in that election. The McCarthyites in Wisconsin stayed away from the polls and they voted for the Democrat. Their action was anti-Eisenhower rather than anti-Kohler. Of course, it was a disappointment to President Eisenhower.

It lost his party the possibility of control of the Senate for another year; but worse than that, it may put ideas into the heads of McCarthyites in other parts of the country.

It undoubtedly following has never been clearly analyzed but its hard core appears to be growing larger since he died.

Both the defeat of the Jencks Decision and the Wisconsin election give to Modern Republicanism a severe blow. Professional politicians will look at it with eyes to the 1958 and 1960 elections.

The professional Republican politician is particularly fearful about 1960 because he not so where the votes will come from to elect either

Knowland or Nixon, one of whom is likely to be the Republican candidate.

While he realizes that the Democrats do not have a stratagem to put forward, he also recognizes that the shifts of population during the past 40 years have made the Democratic Party the normality majority party which the Republicans were from Abraham Lincoln to Herbert Hoover. The Republicans not only must hold their own votes to win but must get many which normally go Democratic. They did that with Eisenhower. Can they do it with Nixon or Knowland?

Inside Washington

Legislators Puzzled

By Henry Cathcart

Washington—Many legislators are puzzled to the point of anger over the administration's maneuverings on the size of the nation's armed forces—both regular and reserve. They recall the fight the Pentagon waged earlier this year to get more men into the Army Reserve. This battle against similar efforts by the National Guard finally led to a series of explosive hearings before the House armed services committee and to an agreement that really pleased no one.

Now, the legislators find,

the military is cutting back the Reserve and warning the National Guard that its funds will become more and more limited.

Several members of the armed services committee are also concerned about the methods the department is using to achieve economies. They feel that forcibly retiring officers with service is not the wisest course, especially when it is done in a way that enhances the officers against the service.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D,

Louisiana, says he will hold hearings on the Reserve and National Guard policy before his armed services subcommittee. However, no date has yet been set for them.

Governorship Prospect—The

vigorous fight waged on behalf of a strong civil rights

bill by Rep. Kenneth Keating

(R), New York, has enhanced his chances that he may win

the GOP nomination for the New York governorship next year.

Keating has kept any gubernatorial ambitions quiet but friends feel that he would like to make the bid.

In the past, Keating's chances have been discounted because he comes from upstate

New York and therefore would have little vote-getting appeal in New York City. However, the role he has played in the civil rights fight has won him the respect of Negro and other minority groups in the Big City.

Vie To Cut Taxes

Washington, Sept. 4—Congress is finally adjourned, but it will be heard from again sooner than scheduled.

"Tax

revision" is likely to than next

January.

Reason is

Democratic

plans to beat the Administration to the punch on a tax reduction bill.

They are convinced President Eisenhower will propose a tax cut in his State of the Union message in the new year. To jump the gun on that, the House Ways and Means Committee, which originates tax legislation, would move early in December instead of a month later, when Congress convenes.

Company To Deed Triangle Plot At Intersection To Borough

Improvement Planned At Main-Dreher

By Don Allen

STANDARD OIL CO. of California will deed to the Borough of Stroudsburg a triangle of land at W. Main St. and Dreher Ave. as a result of action taken by Borough Council last night.

Council approved an expenditure of $250 for curbing and sidewalks along the 34-foot base of the triangle, near a service station the company is erecting.

The triangle has a 70-foot frontage on both W. Main St. and Dreher Ave. The area will be paved by the Pennsylvania Dept. of Highways after present curbing is torn out, Burgess Hal H. Harris reported. Transfer of the plot will permit widening of the intersection where the two heavily traveled routes meet.

No action was taken on a letter from Atty. Kennard Lewis regarding drainage from Foxtown Hill Rd. across the property of Herman Glou, 325 Clermont Ave.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in history, students at Stroud Union High School have cafeteria of their own in which to eat their lunches. All facilities of the new room are not yet in use. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

71 Arrests Reported By Police Chief

Police Chief James McConnell reported 71 arrests and citations during August in his monthly report to Borough Council last night. Burgess Hal H. Harris collected $291.50 in fines.

Police vehicles traveled 2,219 miles during the month and 23 automobile accidents were investigated. A total of 39 lodgers were accommodated during the month.

The report of the Street Dept. payroll for the month showed $229.65 for cleaning streets; $101.80 for general maintenance; $324.38 for patching; $105.66 for equipment maintenance; $116.10 for drainage; $51.08 for street signs and markings; $45.60 for vacation; $41.50 for sanitary sewers; $77.25 for sewer plant; $300.95 for the Water Dept.; $158.20 for playground work; $158.20 for tennis court construction on playgrounds; and $205.28 for Lenox St. construction for a total of $2,261.43.

The Fire Dept. answered two calls during the month — on Aug. 8 to a grass fire at 1110 W. Main St. and on Aug. 31 for a grease fire at the Colonial Diner.

21 Complaints

The Board of Health reported 21 nuisance complaints investigated, 375 health cards collected to date and one reportable disease, a case of mumps. The report showed that Health Officer Samuel W. Van Gordon attended a health conference at the Pennsylvania State University from Aug. 19 to 21.

The treasurer's report showed balances of $13,138.10 in the regular account; $24,025.05 in the sewer revenue account; $8,867.23 in the sewer checking account; $30 in the digging permit account; $3,761.21 highway aid fund; $1,979.67 in the new fire apparatus account; $1,519.27 in the 1931 municipal building sinking fund account; $5,311.64 in the 1936 sewage bond issue sinking fund account; $5,621.91 in the 1946 sewer extension sinking fund account; $3,936.28 in the 1954 street construction and drainage sinking fund; and $872.25 in the 1956 fire engines and fire apparatus sinking fund.

Reconvene Jan. 7

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—It became official today that Congress will reconvene at noon, next Jan. 7. President Eisenhower signed a joint House-Senate resolution setting that date.

Blaine Rice At Retreat

SEUL — Pfc. Blaine M. Rice, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Rice, 1942 Pocono Park Dr., Stroudsburg, Pa., recently attended a five-day religious retreat at the Army's Far East retreat site near Seoul.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains alternate planning the program of lectures, conferences and services.

Rice, a member of 7th Division Artillery's Headquarters Battery, arrived overseas last May from Fort Lewis, Wash. He was a bookkeeper for the Abelloff Auto Exchange in East Stroudsburg before entering the Army in July 1956.

Rice was graduated from Churchman Business College in Easton in 1954.

$25,000 Fire Deliberately Set

COLUMBIA, Pa., Sept. 4 (AP)—A flash fire destroyed a one-story frame workshop and spread to nearby dwellings leaving eight persons homeless today.

Damage was estimated at $30,000 by Fire Chief Larry Smith of the Columbia Fire Department. Smith said he had reason to believe the fire was of "incendiary origin."

Held for questioning in connection with the fire was Edward Sherman, 55, Columbia.

Three firemen were injured in fighting the fire, none seriously. Smith said the fire apparently started in a workshop operated by Sherman.

Bus Contract Awarded By Bangor Board

BANGOR — The Bangor School Board last night awarded a contract for transporting pupils to the Columbus School to Ware Bus Co. of Bangor.

It calls for hiring four buses at a total of $40 a day.

It was announced that 403 names have been added to the per capita tax rolls in the borough as the result of work by assessors in the four wards and a group of teachers who acted as enumerators.

A total of 325 of the names, representing 82 percent of the total, were secured by the teachers.

The board approved tax exonerations for 370 persons including 121 who have moved out of the state and 68 who died in the past six years.

David Stoddard, a member of the board, praised Schools Supt. Donald B. Keat for a news release he issued concerning missing applications for the proposed seven-district jointure.

Stoddard said he was "glad to see someone in Bangor take a stand instead of being a pacifist as was the case in the past."

Role Defined For Hospital

HARRISBURG, Sept. 4 (AP)—Danville State Hospital today was designated a classification center for youths in trouble with the law or suspected of being emotionally disturbed.

Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro said courts would ask the hospital to examine a child for two or three days before sentencing him to a reformatory.

"The diagnosis would determine if he should be kept for treatment with the possibility of being discharged in a month to a year," Shapiro said.

As many as 50 beds would be set aside for the program. The mental hospital has about 2,500 patients.

Final details, including cost, are to be worked out with Dr. Robert L. Gatski, superintendent of the institution, Shapiro said.

Legion Post Honored For Youth Work

GEORGE N. Kemp Post 346, American Legion, East Stroudsburg, has been cited by national headquarters of the organization for outstanding service to children and youths.

William Morohovich, local post commander, in announcing the award, gave much credit for it to Earl R. Palmer, child welfare chairman for the post.

"Child welfare is one of the American Legion's major programs," Morohovich said, "and we are proud that our efforts have been honored in this way."

The citation was signed by National Commander W. C. Daniel; David V. Addy, national child welfare chairman; Randal Shake, national child welfare director; and Leo A. H. Whittman, state child welfare chairman.

Cool Weather Forces Insects To Seek Shelter In Attics, Cellars; Undertake Controls Now

JUST as soon as the weather starts to get cool insects begin to invade attics and cellars. Here are a few facts about the most common pests to enter your home. Also called fall flies, or "blackhead" flies, these insects are dark gray, and slightly larger than a house fly. You see them congregating in fall on the outside of walls and eaves by the hundreds, looking for a way to get into the house.

The adult fly can squeeze itself through the smallest crack. Control: Right now's a good time to check cracks with cotton, and be sure to check the sash cord grooves in windows. A likely entry with malathion, or DDT, or Lindane, are helpful. The last two leave a residue or deposit that will kill the insects as they try to crawl along.

Dahlia Notes: If your dahlia plants suddenly wilt, look for the presence of corn borers. Any plants showing wilting leaves are apt to be hit by borers. Look for the presence of "sawdust" at the base. Take a knife and remove the borer in the stalk or stab it with a hot wire. Stem borers occur most commonly along borders, especially if near weedy areas.

Question Box

Mrs. E. J. of Stroudsburg: "Last week I noticed millions of tiny reddish-brown insects climbing up our house and windows. Neighbors say they are sand ants but they're only as big as a speck. We've sprayed them with the hose, swept them off and they still come on. What will kill them?"

You have the clover mite, a tiny pest that's usually troublesome in late fall and early spring. We've never heard of them causing any damage to food, furniture or fabric, although some tell us the mites have invaded and attacked house plants. Mites enter homes thru tiny cracks around doors and windows, and in foundations. Oddly enough the heaviest infestations of these mites are associated with a new house or housing developments, and where gardeners have sprayed or neatly maintained their property. They're usually troublesome for several years in succession and then gradually become less of a problem.

Clover mites feed on grasses, clover, woods and almost any plant available. They multiply so fast you can have as many as six generations.

CONTROL: There's no easy control. Malathion powder or emulsion sprayed on the foundation and walls will often check the pest, but they come on in hordes and you have to be persistent. Pyrethrum and rotenone mixed together and dusted on the wall and ground checks them. Also if you take a mixture of 50% dusting sulfur and 10% fresh ground dextin, and dust it over the ground, you'll have good luck. Do not use DDT or Methoxychlor. D-mite or Armita, as emulsifiable concentrates, 2 tablespoons of one of these to a gallon of water is helpful.

E. F. of East Stroudsburg: "I have some straw flowers which I'd like to preserve for a dried arrangement. When's the best time to cut them?"

Cut the flowers before they are fully open, then store them in a jar. Or you can stand the cut flowers, upside down in the cellar or garage. Don't attempt to arrange the flowers in vases until they are completely dried.

"BEAUTIFUL BABIES"—Well, they're pretty adult by now, but the ladies in this picture were "only startin' to go to kindergarten" yesterday, anyway. With Mrs. Ethel Farleigh, Stroud Union kindergarten teacher are four mothers who helped Mrs. Farleigh make the first day of school a real success for herself and their children. As always, cooperation between parents and teachers made it easier for children to "get along." School administrators called the first day of school a "huge success." There were few unexpected confusions. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

State Flower Presentation Takes Place At Meeting

GILBERT—Pocono Forestry Assn. held its annual meeting at the West End Fairground here recently. Principal talks were given by M. E. Leffler, Paul M. Crown, Walter Von Brook, Charles N. Thompson and Prof. Reitz, of California.

The state flower (kalmia latifolia) was presented by Frank A. LaBar, president of LaBar's Rhododendron Nursery and chairman of the Monroe County committee for the Theodore Roosevelt Centennial in 1958.

The plant was accepted by Sebastian Spring Kroger. Others taking official part in the ceremony were John H. Doebeling, State game protector; C. Elwood Huffman, State game commissioner and J. Logan Bennett of Mountain Lake House.

E. Clyde Pyle delivered an address on "Conservation Problems" at the annual dinner. Pyle is district forester. Mrs. Leona Fish Mery and Robert White released wild game birds under Doebeling's supervision.

In his address Pyle pointed out that fire destroyed 10,000 acres of forest land this past spring. It was the worst season since 1941 when early 11,000 acres were burned.

Fire Deliberately Set
He said it is evident that many of the fires were deliberately set by a person or persons unknown.

President John H. Kunkle was in charge of the meeting. The nominating committee, consisting of Dr. John Gregory, Walter Von Brook and Ralph Snyder reported. Anton Vogler was named to the board of directors. All other directors and officers were reelected.

Rev. William F. Wunder exhibited a pair of beagles. Other hunting dogs displayed were: Pair of coon hounds by Paul Brown; pair of fox hounds by James D. Burger and a pair of Sam hounds by Boyd Weiss.

Woman Bitten By Rattlesnake

CAMDEN, N.J., Sept. 4 (AP)—A 79-year-old woman was in fair condition in Audubon Hospital today after being bitten by a 40-inch rattlesnake in the backyard of her Camden County summer home.

Mrs. Mabel Boyer, a Philadelphian who was spending the summer in her cottage near Atco, N.J., was watering flowers in the yard last night when she was attracted by the barking of her pet dog at the snake under a porch. When Mrs. Boyer tried to kill the reptile with a hat-

County YMCA Youth Rally Arranged To Resume Teen Dances

THE YMCA fall program will open Saturday with a dance for teen-age boys and girls, starting at 8 p. m. Youth Director William McConnell reported last night.

The YMCA gym floor has been refinished for the fall season and a new music recording system installed. A snack bar will serve hot dogs, hamburgers and cold drinks during the dance. This is an innovation this year.

Decorations for the opening dance have been planned by a group of boys and girls. All boys and girls in Monroe County who are in seventh through 12th grades are invited to attend the initial dance of the season.

chet she was bitten on the hand.

A neighbor finished off the big snake and took Mrs. Boyer to the hospital.

The snake was a timber rattler of a type still found in the more wooded areas of New Jersey but rarely seen this close to populous regions.

MONROE COUNTY Youth for Christ Director Bob Bullock announced yesterday the fall schedule of Saturday night youth rallies will open this week. The rally is billed as a "back to school" rally, with every teenager in attendance receiving a gift. The feature at Saturday's rally will be the showing of the sound motion picture "Counter-Attack."

The rallies will continue on a bi-weekly basis throughout the Winter and Spring concluding with a final rally on May 17, 1958.

In addition to the regular Saturday night rallies, Youth for Christ sponsors teen-age Bible clubs composed of students of the area schools meeting together for Bible study and prayer.

A new feature of the rallies this fall will be Bible quizzes in which students from the various schools will compete against one another answering questions submitted by pastors as well as laymen from the area. The two books of the Bible chosen as quiz material are the Book of Acts and the Book of Ephesians.

The winning teen-agers will receive a trip to the Ocean City, N. J. Bible Conference of the Eastern Regional District of Youth for Christ International.

The rally this Saturday will be held at 8 p. m. in the auditorium

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

So now you can see what the Summer has done to the neighborhood children. The first graders seem to get younger every year. The second graders have new front teeth, so big and bold that it seems as if they never could grow up to them.

The junior high girls have suddenly grown waistlines and cinch them in with belts so tight that you wonder if they can breathe. There's always a new generation wearing lipstick and looking so strangely unfamiliar.

The girls are still wearing those heavy socks that make them look like draft horses' feathered feet under the skirts that seem much too long. The boys are Ivy Leagued with a vengeance with no slacks complete without a back buckle. Some of the more daring ones are wearing striped Ivy-Leaguers.

Long before Mother has had a chance to figure out her Fall wardrobe, the grade school set is leading the way in lots of reds, big plaids and plenty of browns in the toast to cordovan shades.

The boys still go for the brush cut, worn just now with a white border above the summer tan revealed by that brand-new haircut.

The girls are wearing their hair a little longer these days, with few pigtails or d.a.s. This works very well for the senior high school group which has learned to cope with curlers or pony tails, true or false.

For the junior high group, however, there is usually visible evidence that they slept in their curlers and not too soundly, having tossed around until there are quite a few straggly ends.

So much you can see, merely by watching the crowd through. We'll get used to them, I suppose, but in the first flush of transformation they're pretty overwhelming.

Sisterhood Plans Fall Projects

A bake sale for September 13, and a rummage sale in October were planned by the Sisterhood of the Temple Israel at their meeting on Tuesday night in the vestry rooms.

The Sisterhood also voted to sponsor social hours on alternate Fridays following the weekly Friday night services.

Mrs. Sol Schulman, chairman of the bake sale to be held at Wyckoff's store on Friday, September 13, asked members to notify her if they wished contributions picked up.

Rabbi Joshua Soden was guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephen Galambos (Lawrence Studio)

Miss Myrna Spangler Bride Of Charles Galambos Sun.

Miss Myrna Donna Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spangler of 422 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, and Charles Stephen Galambos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Galambos of 315 N. Pennsylvania Ave., Morrisville, were married on Sunday afternoon, September 1, at the Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. They are both seniors at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Rev. William F. Wunder performed the double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting before a large congregation. The altar vases were filled with white gladioli and pompons, banked with palms. Douglas Gordon, minister of music at Christ Episcopal Church, was organist. Miss Elizabeth Klierim, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" prior to the wedding and "The Lord's Prayer" as the bride couple knelt before the altar on white satin pillows during the wedding ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white, Swiss embroidered organza, fitted bodice with a jacket with short sleeves and a square neckline, and a bouffant tiered skirt. She wore matching mitts, and a crown of Chantilly lace and iridescent held her fingertip veil of imported illusion. She wore small pearl earrings. Her bridal bouquet was of roses, pompons and baby's breath.

Miss Melba Jean Smith, Stroudsburg, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of green peau de sole in princess style with black interest. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of tallies, roses, pompons and spider mums.

The bridesmaids wore similar gowns and carried bouquets of the same flowers. Miss Barbara Galambos, sister of the bridegroom, was in lavender and Miss Judith Fisher, cousin of the bride, wore yellow.

Charles Stouffer of Lancaster was best man. John Davis and John Krysa, both of Morrisville, were ushers. Bruce Bean served as acolyte.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the CLU Social Club. The bride's mother received in a gown of open blue lace with navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Ellen Williams, grandmother of the bride, wore a dress of deep orchid with a matching hat and corsage of yellow roses.

Leaving for their wedding trip the bride wore a suit dress in gray tones with a white feather hat, and a white orchid corsage.

On their return they will be at home in an apartment in Tannersville.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Morrisville High School and Trenton Junior College, 1955, will be graduated next May from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College with a major in Physical Education. He has been employed by the Record Shop of the Bethlehem Steel Co. in its Saylorsburg plant.

His bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School in 1954 and will be graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College next May with a degree in physical education. She has been employed in the Women's Sportswear dept. at Wyckoff's Store.

Slack Waist? Sack Sheath? You Decide

By Nadene Walker
Paris — Now that the wraps are off Paris fall fashions, members of the haute couture are waiting anxiously to see which of them the public will approve.

Slack waist, low waist, tight waist? Knee-length skirt or midcalf skirt? Now you can make your choice, and be sure that the fashion czars will be moved by it. For however dictatorially some new trends may be launched, the stylists do heed public opinion.

What you like best from this season's shapes are sure to reappear in next February's openings, while the trends you and all your friends simply detest are likely to wither quietly away.

Trial Balloons
You don't believe it? Well, Dior launched nearly ankle-length day skirts as a trial balloon two seasons ago, made many more of them last season, and dropped them like a hot potato this time after they failed to catch on.

The big issue this season is undoubtedly the slack waisted sack sheath. At the openings, some women declared that they adore them and swore to adopt them; others gritted their teeth and hissed, "Never!"

But already some are to be seen in the smart hotel lobbies and restaurants of Paris, and even strolling down the Champs Elysees. Not many, but enough to indicate that the dressmakers have turned up a controversial trend in the sack sheaths.

Few women, we'll bet, will wear necklines as low as Dior pitches them for cocktail and evening. And surely Pierre Cardin's drapery between the legs is only for the door-die exhibitionists. The hobble hems that were shown nearly everywhere are not wearable or comfortable enough to be a universal success, although they've had fad runs before and no doubt will have again.

All of Paris, from Patou to Lanvin the Helm to Balmain, likes satin bows, more or less in profusion, and some women will welcome their soft flattery. But others hate bows worse than a run in the stocking, and when they order or copy one of the new creations they're sure to strip off the gingerbread.

Perennial Black
The couturiers' prediction for black this season will probably go down better in Paris than elsewhere, for it's the color French women dote on anyway. According to popular magazine surveys, a little black suit is everybody's dream of chic. For rebels against sobriety, there is a range of blues, coral, pink, red, green and gold—colorful enough for the gayest.

Maybe a rather bad summer has made the dressmakers pessimistic—or maybe they're just pushing fur. Anyway, they seem to be predicting a freezing winter with their big fur-lined and fur-trimmed greatcoats and thick tweed suits.

And they've given in gracefully, without much of a struggle, to the fact that big hats are a blight. Just see how small the new models are.

Guild At Pastor's

Portland — The annual Guild meeting and hot dog roast for September will be held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Spriggs, Portland, on Monday, September 9 at 6:30 p. m. Members are asked to bring their own hot dogs and rolls.

Open a can or two of small whole potatoes and cook a package of green peas; heat the potatoes with the drained cooked peas and some butter or margarine. Nice quick vegetable dish for company.

Porch snack: gingerbread waffles with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream. If you want to go all-out, you can also offer butterscotch or chocolate sauce; both of these flavors go well with the gingerbread.

Naturally...
upon learning of the benevolence of anyone close to you, your first instinct is to express your sympathy as eloquently as possible.

Down through the ages, fresh flowers—fragrant and beautiful—have brought comfort and solace during troubled times to those left behind.

The Wyckoff Shopper

It had been planned that last Saturday would be just another day for the family. It was Mother-and-Dad's 50th wedding anniversary, but they decided against making any fuss about it. However, in a town of this size, it's a bit difficult to keep anything quiet. . . so the rumor made its way to the social desk of The Daily Record, and the ever-alert ears of Bobby Westbrook. When the news came out in the paper, things began happening. There were telephone calls . . . flowers . . . gifts . . . even a visit from Mrs. Burt Sylvester, Welcome Wagon representative, an attractive Santa Claus with a basket of delightful surprises. Not the least of these surprises was a box of Whitman candies from Wyckoff's.

It's all over now—but the golden anniversary glow still lingers. Too bad the folks hadn't decided in favor of a real, full-scale celebration—they enjoyed this impromptu one so much, they'd probably have had a roaring good time!

FLASH! The annual Wyckoff Hudson River excursion is scheduled once again, this year's date being Monday, September 23rd. Excursionists will leave East Stroudsburg station around 8 in the morning, and will board the Hudson River Day Line ship at the D. L. & W. terminal in Hoboken. The boat will proceed down the bay, giving everyone a view of the Statue of Liberty, as well as a close glimpse of Mayflower 2nd, which is docked at 41st street pier.

The trip up the Hudson is always beautiful at this season of the year . . . and the HOPI INDIANS will be along to enliven the journey. Sightseeing at West Point will include a movie at 4 p. m., and regimental dress parade at 5:25.

Prices from all points beyond East Stroudsburg are 6.75 for adults, and 4.75 for students; and from East Stroudsburg, 6.25 for adults, and 4.25 for students. Reservations may be made now by telephoning the appliance department of Wyckoff's.

They're cards . . . they're trays . . . they're the cutest darned way of saying "Merry Christmas" . . . "Noel" . . . "Good Luck for 1958" or "Hope you have a real cool Yule." I've ever seen anywhere. What's more, they're made of GLASS pretty hand painted, and packed in cartons for easy mailing. Prices range from 60c to 1.00, and only six cents postage is required.

Some of the styles are purely seasonal, of course . . . there is a gay Santa on white background . . . some very modern, sad-pussed reindeer in gold on black . . . the wise men, also in gold, on black . . . a turquoise Christmas tree on black . . . and tiny gold trees, with the words "Holiday Greetings" scattered over a jet tray. My favorite of these is the long, narrow, milk-white tray with holly berries, green leaves and Christmas greetings in gold. Two styles are not quite so festive, but are more practical for year round giving . . . both are calendars for 1958. One of these has a big horseshoe in the center, with a four leaf clover and a wish for good luck during the months ahead.

These are adorable inexpensive gifts for secret pal . . . office friends . . . grab bags . . . and such. I've already purchased three for the Christmas parties to which one must take fifty-cent or dollar packages. See them next time you come shopping in our stationery department right next to the boxed Christmas cards.

ON THE SIDELINES

By Bill Berry

PIGSKIN PREDICTIONS

A second-string halfback will run seventy yards through the Varsity during the first scrimmage of the season, be promoted to first string — and never gain more than 20 yards per game for three years.

An Ivy League or Eastern independent center will get drunk before the Army game — and hope to stay drunk throughout the game.

An alumnus will travel to his Alma Mater for the "big game" only to find that it's being played at the other school.

An athletic moron at a Big Ten school will flunk four out of four courses at mid-semester, be declared ineligible for the "big game" — and the school newspaper will chastise the faculty.

A collegian, listening to older alumni, will find it hard to believe that there were many undefeated teams in one year.

"With a little luck," a football coach will answer a sportswriter, "we may win a few games."

What he'll be thinking is, "With the team that the school bought for me this year, I could schedule four games a day during the season and win 'em all."

"It'll all depend on my half-back, Wisniewski, getting into shape for the season," he'll tell the sportswriter.

What he'll be thinking is, "With that boozin' and nagin' he gets from his ol' lady 'cause he coulda made more from Hickville, U., he'll be lucky to average three touchdowns a game."

"The opener with Squodunk in a toss-up," he'll belabor the sportswriter.

"Yeah," he'll think, "It's a toss-up whether they'll dare to show up."

"Lotta problems I gotta solve before that game," he'll say.

"Like whether to bother to take the Varsity along or not," he'll think.

And the sportswriter will know what he's thinking, but will be forced to write the story straight.

The same sportswriter will alibi his favorite team's dismal showing against a weaker opponent by saying that "they were playing under wraps for the big game next week."

GRIDEFINITIONS
OPTION PLAY—halfback has option of getting tangled running interference for quarterback or lagging behind hoping that quarterback won't see him and lateral off.

TURNING THE CORNER—A seat-back, faced with the alternative, on an end-run, of running off the sidelines or being massacred by the defensive end, tackle, linebacker, and halfback, decides to commit suicide.

KILLING THE CLOCK—when the same seat-back gets smart and runs off the sidelines. Only applied late in the game.

INCOMPLETE PASS—a quarterback, hearing complaints that his fullback is getting clobbered in the line, that the defensive end and linebacker are massacring his halfbacks, and that his ends are being mauled on pass plays, will decide to throw the ball away.

NAKED REVERSE—Interference got signals crossed.

DELAYED BUICK—Fullback goes on quick-opener.

Harvard Griddier Out For Season

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 4 (AP)—Harvard's football squad lost the fourth of its five-man center squad today when Carl A. Frankie III, 19, of Detroit, underwent a sudden appendectomy. Frankie captained last fall's freshman team.

Earlier new coach Johnny Yocisovich lost center Alan Culbert of Boothbay, Maine, who did not return to college; Mike Pritchard of St. Paul, Minn., ill in Panama, and John Altomonte of Garden City, N. Y., who quit football to concentrate on his studies.

Maxwell Cops Stamford Open

STAMFORD, Conn., Sept. 4 (AP)—Billy Maxwell, lanky 28-year-old golfer from Odessa, Tex., won the first Stamford Open Invitational professional tournament and $600 today with a five-under-par 66.

Bob Hill of Rochester, N.Y., was two strokes behind and won $400.

More than 90 pros competed in the $3,000 event.

Sked Set For Valley Bowlers

EXPANSION into a ten-team league marked the initial meeting of the Delaware Valley Bowling League early this week.

Bangor and Hometown will be the two new entries into the formerly eight-team circuit.

Another new feature of the league will be 12 "position nights" in addition to the 18 regularly scheduled encounters among the league entries.

Position Night
"Position nights" entails the first and second-place teams rolling against each other, the third and fourth-place teams, and so on right down the line.

The purpose of this is, apparently, to permit the most equal bowling squads to compete with each other as often as possible.

The other 18 nights will be regularly scheduled competition, with each team playing home-and-home with each other league squad.

Local Team
C. H. Crowe Insurance Co. will sponsor the East Stroudsburg entry. The six man squad will consist of Tom Sommers, Russell Bergman, John Javitt, Jack Darr, Jake Nittel, and Richard Andrews.

The other seven teams are: last year's champion, Flann Club, Von Hallow, H. P. Kinsey Co., and Weaver's Plumbing, all of Easton; Pappy's Central and Gelhard Billiard, Bowling Supplies, both of Bethlehem, and Parkway Recreation, Phillipsburg N. J. Caesar's Diner, of Wind Gap, will sponsor the Bangor entry, while PMP Bowling Lanes subsidizes the Hometown team.

Orioles Drop Nats

Amateur Golf Slate Set

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—North Carolina's Billy Joe Patton and Scotland's Robert Reid Jack, who staged one of amateur golf's real thrillers in the Walker Cup matches last Saturday, may meet at a rather early stage in the U. S. Amateur championship.

But they'll have to be fortunate as well as a good to reach the fifth round, where the rematch would take place.

The draw for the all-match-play championship at The Country Club, Brookline, Mass., Sept. 9-14, was released today by the U. S. Golf Assn. It shows Jack, the British Amateur champion, and Patton who came from five down to beat him in the clinching match of the Walker Cup series, both in the lower half of the third quarter.

These two are about the best in the 200-man field, which includes virtually all the world's leading amateurs except ineligible Harvie Ward. But they're in with at least a half dozen players capable of beating the best in an 18-hole match.

Ward, winner of the tournament for the past two years, was placed on probation by the USGA in June for irregularities in expense payments. Without a defending champion, the tournament became a wide open scramble.

The 200 starters, survivors of an original entry of 1,592, include all the members of the U. S. and British Walker Cup teams, five former U. S. champions, three Americans who have won the British Amateur and a good many others who have been very near the top.

The pairings were made by a double blind draw. The Walker Cup players were distributed evenly through eight sections by one draw, then all the rest of the names were pulled out.

Three of the Britons drew first-round byes—Guy Wolstenholme, Douglas Sewell and Michael Bonalack. One American, non-playing captain Charlie Coe, also got a bye.

Jack's first opponent Monday will be H. H. Haverstick, Lancaster, Pa., veteran who outlasted most of the Britons in the recent Canadian Amateur. Then he'll likely meet highly regarded young Bob Shave Jr., of Cleveland.

Patton starts against Bobby Knowles of Aiken, S. C., a semifinalist in 1950, then faces Ward Wetlaufer of Buffalo, runner-up to Walker Cupper Rex Baxter in this year's National Collegiate championship.

Also in the third quarter are former U. S. and British champion Dick Chapman, ex-champion Chick Evans, Walker Cuppers Hillman Robbins of Memphis and Philip Scrutton of England, public links champion Don Essig III, junior champion Larry Beck and Dick Foutche of Charleston, W. Va., low scorer in the sectional qualifying rounds.

The other three quarters are about equally packed with talent. A number of very interesting first-round matches turned out. They include 1946 champion Ted Bishop against Bob McCall, who lost to Ward in the fifth round last year; Joe Carr, 1953 British champion, against Don Hoeng, a tough player from Connecticut; Walker Cupper Mason Rudolph against former Southern Amateur champion Charles Harrison; Gerald Micklem, British Cup team captain, against Sam D. Kocsis, former U. S. public links champion, and Chuck Kocsis, Sam's brother who was runner-up to Ward last year, to Chicago.

Ronson Tops Trumatic, Qualifies For Finals

FOUR runs scored in to top of the seventh and last inning provided the margin of victory by which Ronson moved into the Industrial League Softball playoff finals.

Stroud Gals Bowl Season's Opener

SEASON'S play in the Stroud Ladies Bowling League begins tonight with all eight of the circuit's teams in action.

Melvin & Marley roll against George's Shoes; General Flooring meets Smith's Fashions; C. C. Frantz matches scores with Bachman Oil; and Wyckoff-Sears engages Penn-Dell.

Competition will be held tonight and every Thursday night at 7 p.m. at the Pocono Bowling Center. The tournament will cover 14 weeks of play, with each team meeting each other squad twice.

Trumatic led by a 7-6 count after six frames had been completed. A pair in the second and five in third had established this one-run lead.

Gallagher pitched all the way for the victors, settling down to runless ball after the second and third frames. Dorfinger, however, pitched one inning too many for the losers.

The finals will begin on Monday evening, putting Ronson against Kulp's Foundry, winner of the other half of the semifinals. It will also be a best two-of-three series.

The line score:
Ronson 041 100 4-10
Trumatic 025 000 0-7
WP—Gallagher; LP—Dorfinger.

Maglie Would Quit If Sent To White Sox

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—Sal Maglie, whose clutch relief pitching yesterday helped the New York Yankees defeat Baltimore, said today he would have quit baseball had the Chicago White Sox instead of the Yankees purchased him from Brooklyn.

"It would have been Cleveland all over again," said the 40-year-old right-hander, "one club buying you just so that you won't be able to pitch for another."

"I could have been with the Yankees two years ago," Maglie said, "but Cleveland kept me from it. It made it bad for me because I knew Cleveland really didn't want me. When I heard that the White Sox were after me, I knew it would be Cleveland all over again and I made up my mind I would rather quit than go to Chicago."

The pairings were made by a double blind draw. The Walker Cup players were distributed evenly through eight sections by one draw, then all the rest of the names were pulled out.

Three of the Britons drew first-round byes—Guy Wolstenholme, Douglas Sewell and Michael Bonalack. One American, non-playing captain Charlie Coe, also got a bye.

Gypsy Moth Controls Lifted In One Area, Put On Another

HARRISBURG—Placement of gypsy moth quarantine restrictions on four Northeastern Pennsylvania counties and the lifting of similar bans in three other counties was announced yesterday by State Agriculture Secretary William L. Henning.

He explained that gypsy moth quarantine controls are to prevent spread of the highly destructive pest through egg masses on stones, junk, lumber, shrubbery, timber and similar materials likely to be moved out of known infested areas. All such materials will be subject to inspection by Department agents.

Effective Sept. 10, similar quarantine restrictions placed a year ago will be removed from 24 townships and boroughs in Wayne, Pike and Monroe Counties. These areas were sprayed last May with DDT in a Federal-State eradication program.

New Infestation
On Sept. 20, quarantine restrictions will become effective in parts of Luzerne, Carbon, Monroe and Lackawanna Counties. Secretary Henning's action results from discovery in July of "an unusual infestation" of gypsy moth near White Haven, Luzerne County. The discovery was several miles outside of any previously known infested area.

Approximately 500,000 acres will be quarantined including the City of Hazleton and the boroughs of Jeddo, Freeland, White Haven and West Hazleton in Luzerne County; East Side, Weatherly, East Mauch Chunk, Lansford, Jim Thorpe, Summit Hill and Beaver Meadow in Carbon County; and Mount Pocono in Monroe County.

The spread of moths to new areas of Northeastern Pennsylvania was determined by agents of the Bureau of Plant Industry through systematic scouting on more than three million acres. Plans are under way to spray DDT from airplanes over the infested area when caterpillars appear next Spring.

Quarantines against gypsy moths were first established 25 years ago following an outbreak in Luzerne County. Restrictions were lifted in 1950 when all known infestations were eliminated by airplane spraying of DDT. The ban was renewed in 1955 and again in 1956 when moths were carried by high winds into Monroe, Pike and Wayne Counties from New York.

Henning estimated that approximately 15 million dollars has been expended by Federal and State governments for control and eradication of the pest since it first came into Pennsylvania. Gypsy moth caterpillars are capable of completely defoliating a wide variety of trees and other types of vegetation. It would cost approximately $3 million a year if the pest became established statewide.
